I refer to the semi-official utterances directed toward the attainment of a 'Greater Prussia.' The National Liberals in 1848 had a cut and dried plan of this sort. In creating the unity of the empire I sought to preserve everything that was in any way compatible therewith. The enthusiastic demonstrations I have received in the German States, outside of Prussia, have proved that my policy was right.

London, Aug. 23.—The Times to-day publishes a despatch from Berlin severely commenting upon what it terms Prince Bismarck's scarcely veiled attempt, in addressing his visitors at Rissingen, to excite the individual Diets against the new regime. The Times correspondent declares that the Prince's statements were misleading, and rebuts the charge of unconstitutionalism. He recalls the fact that it was Prince Bismarck himself who separated the offices of the Chancellor and the President of the Prussian Council of Ministers. The correspondent attributes the Prince's outburst at Kiesingen to the bitter leadousy he feels in finding that Germany does so well without him.

Striking Cab Drivers and the Police in Col lision-Nine Persons Hurt,

Naples, Aug. 23.-The cab drivers of this city went on strike this morning, and tried to induce the drivers of other vehicles to join them. In their efforts to stop the running of trains and omnibuses they set fire to a kiosk and five cars near La Torretta. In the Piazza Depratis the strikers met and attacked a body of police. Five strikers and four policemen were injured in the fight. On account of the rioting many shops were closed and the tram and omnibus service was suspended. A detachment of cavairy now guards the company's yards.

FOR SELLING STOLEN BONDS.

Inwyer Schooley Arrested in Connectic

Lawyer William H. Schooley of 319 Greenwich street was held at the Tombs Police Court yesterday in $5,000 on the charge of largeny and $1,500 on the charge of forgery, it being alleged that he disposed of four $1,000 bonds which had been stolen. The bonds were taken on Dec. 14, 1800, from the home of Mrs. Ellen M. Gay of 1,510 U street, N. W., Washington. Mrs. Gay was absent at enurch at the time of the robbery. Some jewelry and a sum of money were also stolen. The bonds were ? per cent, ones of the St. Louis and Iron Mountain Railroad, and though notification of the theft and an exact description of the stolen securities were immediately sent to the police securities were immediately sent to the police throughout the country, nothing was heard of them for two and a haif years. Super-intendent Byrnes, who was then Inspector, put Detectives Rogers and Kush on the case.

The interest on four St. Louis and Iron Mountain bonds was paid by the Mercantile Trust Company in June and December, 1831, upon presentation of the coupons by some person unknown to the trust company officials. After that, by order of the railroad company, payment was refused. On Aug. 12, 1831, Lawyer Schooley sold one of the bonds to James Waish & Son, 5 Wall street, and the other three to White, Morris & Co., bankers at 102 Broadway. The detactives discovered the whereabouts of the bonds this week.

The detectives discovered the whereabouts of the bonds this week.

Agent Hickwell of White, Morris & Co. declined to give up the three, for examination, but the one which Mr. Waish delivered to the detectives was taken to Prof. Doremus, who by a chemical process found that the original number of the bond had been altered and that it was one of the four stolen from Mrs. Gay. Schooley told Justice Meade yesterday that he had obtained the bonds, some time in 1891, from a man named Joel Peterson, who had given him the power of attorney to dispose of them, which he did in open market. He thought that Peterson lived in the neighborhood of 145th street and Third avenue. The prisoner will be examined to-day.

ABSCONDER WENTWORTH CAUGHT. The Bookkeeper at the Victoria, Who, it is Maid, Stole 529,000.

William P. Wentworth, the absconding bookkeeper and cashier of the Victoria Hotel, was arrested yesterday in the Pennsylvania Railroad station in Jersey City by Detective Sergeant Vallely and Detectives Sheridan and Evanhoe of Inspector McLaughlin's staff. Wentworth is 42 years old, and was the representative agent of Mrs. Florentine Stanfield of 21 West Thirty-fourth street, who owns an interest in the hotel. Large sums of money were continually passing through his hands. allege that he stole $28,750, though at the time he disappeared the amount was said to be much smaller. The interest Wentworth really represented was that of Mrs. Stanfield's ready represented was that of airs. Stanfeld's son, Douglas M., who bad inherited it from his grandfather. Mark M. Stanfeld. Mrs. Stan-field acted as her son's guardian, and a clause in the contract gave her the right to have the interest represented by the bookkeeper of the hotel.

The detectives traced Wentworth first to Pittsfield, Mass., then to Hamilton, Canada. Patchogue, L. L., back to Canada, and finally 10 107 Philadelphia street, Saratoga. Thence he came to this city on Tuesday afternoon, and was arrested in the station at Jersey City as he was about to board a train for the West. He was taken to Police Headquarters to await the arrival of regulsition papers. When searched only $100 was found in his pockets. During his travels Wentworth assumed the name of J. H. Williams.

CAPT. DEVERY'S REPORT.

Society Does Not Exist in His Precinct. The reports of Inspectors Coulin and McAvoy and of Capt. Devery of the Eldridge street station, with regard to the charges of the Parkhurst society concerning the existence of gambling and disorderly houses in the Eleventh precinct, were read to the Board of Police Commissioners at their meeting yesterday. The Inspectors said that they had ordered and had conducted investigations, which showed that the charges were unfounded. Capt. Dehouses named in the list furnished by the Parkhurst society to President Martin of the Police Board. It denied the charges specifically and in detail. Several of the houses listed are vacant, and in one instance there is no such street number as was given by the Parkhurst society. Capt. Devery's report said that his personal investigation falled to discover the wickedness charged by the Parkhurst agents. The reports were ordered filed. Copies will be sent to the Parkhurst society.

Lawyer Frank Mossand Thaddeus T. Kenneson, two of the Executive Committee of the Parkhurst society who signed the complaint to President Martin, said yesterday that the reason Capt. Devery didn't find the houses running was that word had been sent to the keepers of the disorderly resorts that the Captain was coming. Mr. Kenneson added that the Parkhurst society's evidence was collected by two sets of detectives, each working independently of the other, and was the result of many visits spread over a long period of time. houses named in the list furnished by the

The boy says that while on the way to the bank with a small satchel containing the money, a young man, who containing the money, a young man, who seemed to know by instinct what was in the satchel, joined him and persuaded him to betray his trust.

They went to Elizabeth, where his tempter and another man, who had joined them on the way, forced him to divide the money equally. One of the men accompanied him to Philadelphia, where he bought clothes out of his $800, lie then went to Chicago, and finally to San Francisco, where he was arrested on July 28, after having lost on the races the $500 then remaining to him. He worked a short time as a bell hoy after losing the money, but was out of employment when arrested.

Crossen's arrest was due to his being recognized from a photograph which had been sent to the San Francisco police. A couple of officers went to a salcon to arrest a shoplifter named Booth. Crossen was drinking with the shoplifter when captured. The prisoner, who is 18 years old, lived at 200 West Twentich street.

SALE OF HOFFMAN HOUSE BONDS Two Hundred $1,000 Bonds Go for $81,750-Sold to Satisfy a Judgment,

By direction of the Supreme Court Referee Levi A. Fuller sold yesterday in the corridor of the City Hall two hundred Hoffman House bonds to satisfy the judgment for $304,000 obtained by Edward S. Stokes against Cassius obtained by Edward S. Stokes against Casslus H. Read, his former partner. The bonds had been in the possession of Mr. Stokes, but were Read's property. They were sold in four blocks, two of seventy-five and two of twenty-five, so as not to break serial numbers.

One hundred and seventy-five were purchased by Edward S. Stokes, 100 at 40 and seventy-five at 42. James P. Leary, the lumberman, got the other block of twenty-five at 41. The par value of the bonds is $1,000, and the referee supposed he was selling them at $40 aplece, and so announced. His mistake was not noticed by Mr. Stokes or Mr. Leary until the sale was completed, when he had to reopen it and resell the bonds at the proper figures. The total receipts from the sale were $81,750.

Furniture Bealer Says the Former Ac-tress Sold Goods Upon Which He Hud a Bill of Sale—Albert J. Sire Her Lawyer. A pretty woman, stylishly dressed in black and wearing black gloves and black suede ties, sat in the side room at the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday afternoon talking earnestly with a nervous young man who sat on the edge of his chair and looked as though he wished he were not there. The woman was apparently about 24 years old, and wore very rellow hair tied in a graceful knot at the back of her head. Detective Heldelberg rushed in and out of the room every few moments and beamed paternally upon the woman, stopping every now and then to whisper something in

This pretty woman was Mrs. Lillian Sire, at one time known on the stage as Lillian Clayton, and known to certain tradesmen in the city as Lillian Beuston. Heidelberg says that he arrested her in Bangs's restaurant on Broadway on Tuesday night, just after she had zotten back from the races in company with George Cox, who was said to be the nervous roung man in the side room with the prisoner. He was explaining to her that his attempts to secure ball had proved fruitless.

The warrant for Mrs. Sire's arrest was sworn out by Mr. Charles Walters of Richard Walters & Sons, auctioneers, at 1,327 Broadway. He called upon him and offered for sale the furniture in her flat at 256 West Thirty-eighth street. She assured the auctioneer that the goods were free from all encumbrance, and e paid her $275 for the lot. As a matter of fact, however, the furniture had been bought on the installment plan from Jacob Baumann, the furniture dealer, and the latter held a mortgage on it, a very small portion of which had been paid up. Baumann's mertgage was signed by Lillian Benston. The bill of sale showed the total cost of the furniture to have been $820.50. When later the two tradesmen compared notes they found that they had been swindled, and placed the case in the hands of the police. When taken to the police station Mrs. Sire gave her address as 150 East Twenty-sixth street. This is a stable, and it is closed for the season. She said she was an actress and denied the charge of grand larceny. When arraigned before Justice Hogan in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday afternoon the young woman said that her lawyer was Mr. Albert I. Sire of 12 Nassau street; that he was ill and could not appear. Detective Hoidelberg, however, proved himself a very good counsellor, and advised the young woman what to do and what to say. On his advice Mrs. Sire asked to have her examination set down for Saturday morning at 100 clock. Justice Hogan assented, and held her in $1.000 bail. She was then locked up in the Jefferson Market prison.

When asked why he was so much interested in his pretty prisoner Detective Heidelberg smiled audibly and said: "You know me, boys. When I have a crook I am severe, but with a delicate woman like that I try to do all I can." The lawyer detective refused to give any further information about the case. He said he did not know whether the original Mr. Sire, the prisoner's husband, and A. I. Sire were any relation to each other, and his knowledge of Mrs. Sire's previous history was nil.

IT WAS MISS LENA SMITH'S.

The Body Found in the North River of Tuesday Identified.

The body which was found floating in the North River off 120th street on Tuesday morning has been identified as that of Miss Lena Smith, who lived with her family at 428 Central Park West. The young woman left home at 8 o'clock on Friday morning to go to her place of employment in Chambers street. She never reached there, and nothing was heard of her until the body was identified yesterday by her brother.

The family and friends of the dead woman say that for some time preceding her death she had complained of severe headaches. Three months ago she suffered from a brain trouble which caused her much distress. It was supposed that she had entirely recovered. but two weeks ago the symptoms reappeared. induced, her friends believe, by the arduous induced, her friends believe, by the arduous nature of her work. She was engaged in scheduling and tabulating records and legal documents, and had often complained the work caused her severe headaches. It is thought by her family that on last Friday morning she walked directly through 104th street and threw herself into the North River there. As she left her home she complained to her mether that she was suffering with severe value in her head. to her mother that she was suffering with severe pains in her head.

On Tuesday Mr. W. B. Volger, who has lived for several years with the Smith family, went to Coney Island in the belief that Miss Smith might have gone there with a woman acquaintance and had been taken sick at one of the hotels there. He was accompanied by a friend named Paul E. Alberti, who did not know Miss Smith, but went with Mr. Volger to help in the search. At Mr. Volger's request he reported at Police Headquarters at Coney Island that Miss Smith had been missing from her home since Friday last.

The body will be buried to-day in Greenwood Cemetery.

O'TOOLE IN LUCK AGAIN.

His Sweetheart Set Him Free the First Time and Justice Walsh's Error the Second, Lawrence O'Toole was released from the Raymond street jail in Brooklyn yesterday by Judge Clement of the City Court in habeas corpus proceedings. He is 25 years old. A few days before last Christmas he was arraigned in the Adams Street Police Court on a charge of petit larceny. Before Justice Walsh sentenced him a young girl appeared to plead for him. She said she was the daughter of a wealthy landowner in Nova Scotia and that wealthy landowner in Nova Scotia and that she wanted to marry O'Toole. Justice Walsh relented and discharged the prisoner. O'Toole and the girl were married the same day.

They went to the girl's home in Nova Scotia. Her father refused to have anything to do with O'Toole or to permit him to enter the house. The couple returned to Brooklyn and went to housekeeping in Tiliary street. On May 21 last O'Toole was arrested for causing a disturbance and was sentenced to the penitentiary for six months. From this sentence he was discharged yesterday. It was shown that the complaint was not sufficiently definite and that Justice Walsh's signature to the commitment had been stamped instead of written.

Corporal Tanner Condemns the Present Administration of the Pansion Office, ROUND LAKE, N. Y., Aug. 23.-Fully 800 veterans made their way into Round Lake this morning to attend the Soldiers' Convention. representatives being present from all the surrounding counties, as well as the Saratoga county organization. Corporal Tanner has been here since last night, but none of the other celebrities have made their appearance, and a great disappointment was felt when a letter from Gen. Sickles was read, announcing and could not be present. At 3 o'clock the crowd had swelled to such an extent that the big auditorium could hardly hold those who came to hear the oratory. Again letters of regret had to be read, and Gen. Woodford, Gen. Carr. Gen. A. S. Webb. Commander Palmer, and Fighting Chaplain Gordon were all reported absent. Col. MeArthur and the Hon. Martin I. Townsend of Troy appeared on the platform and were greeted with cheers.

Col. Smith made a brief address, recounting the purposes of the organization in creeting a new State Soldiers' Home, which was needed in this part of the State, as there are fully 40,000 G. A. R., of whom more than half live in the metropolitan district and this part of the State, while the one home is in the extreme southern tier. The proposition was received with general approval, and a committee will be appointed to draft a bill and present it to the Legislature.

Corporal Tanner's address was on general lines, except toward the last, when he denounced the present pension administration as slapping the old soldier on both cheeks and kicking him besides.

He was followed by Mrs. R. A. Spencer of Oswego, aged 82, who recited her adventures as a nurse at Fredericksburg, Gettysburg, the Wilderness, and City Foint. She was wounded at the latter place. In conclusion she recited "Sheridan's Ride" with great vim. cheers. Smith made a brief address, recounting

A Gang of New York Laborers Becomes a Burden to the Government.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 16.-The authorities here are in trouble over a gang of laborers brought from New York about a month ago by a contractor for the Jamaica Railway Company. Soon after arriving in Jamaica the men complained that they were being ill-treated. Some of them struck work. Others were discharged, and the whole gang of fifty are now wandering about the island in destitute circumstances. Some of island in destitute circumstances. Some of the men have gone into the almshouses some have got arrested as vagrants, and the rest are begging or stealing.

The authorities are puzzled what to do. The men cannot be sent back to America, because America does not receive alien paupers, and there is only one American in the gang. Those in the almshouse and prisons are making a just about the food served them. This week four of the men were brought before the magistrate in Kingston, charged by the railway company with breach of contract. From facts elicited during the investigation it would appear that both the men and the railway company have been victimized by a New York inboragent. The arent got $2 \text{ a head for laborers.} Many of the men he sent down are physically incapable of doing heavy work, and many are mere youths. The men say they were simply asked if they wanted work in Jamaica, and on blank sheets convert to be filled in afterward. blank sheets of paper they signed their names, the terms of contract to be filled in afterward.

MR. AND MRS.DEGRAW HAPPY RECOGNITION DAT AT CHAUTAUGUA.

FOOTSORE AFTER THEIR FORTY-MILE WALK TO GET MARRIED,

But Already Housekeeping in a Hut Near a Brook-Can Neither Rend Nor Write, and the Bride Has Never Been to Church PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 23.-Elljah Degraw and his bride Essie, who walked from the mountains of Rockland county to the Goffle farming and basket-making district, three miles from this city, to get married, have gone to housekeeping in a small but on the roadthat he had been summoned to Washington side, and propose to make a living for themselves. The bride's feet are still covered with blisters and the brilegroom is footsore from their long tramp of forty miles. The couple were so overcome with fatigue last night that they were unable to sleep.

At daybreak this morning Mr. Degraw and his bride waded through a winding brook which ripples near their but to soften the blisters on their feet.

Late this afternoon a Sun reporter visited the hut where the couple intends to spend the remainder of the summer. The podestrian bride was alone, her, husband being engaged making baskets in a thatched shed some distance from his rustic atode. Mrs. Degraw is all that Justice Johnson who married her said. She is a real mountain beauty. She is a blonde with curly yellow hair. There were no shoes or stockings on the feet of this rural bride when she stepped nimbly on the stoop to see what the visitor wanted.

When asked if she and her husband had really walked forty miles over dusty roads to get married she was surprised that the feat should be doubted. She assured the reporter that it was not a case of elopement, as she had told her parents of her intended marriage and that they had sanctioned the union. When sked what was the nearest town to the place where she lived, the bride replied that the farm where she lived, the bride replied that the farm on which she and her family worked and lived was so far removed from civilization that she couldn't name a town or village within a day's walk. She remembered, however, going to Binaveltville for firecrackers and popeorn on a Fourth of July when she wore short freeks.

"Can you read or write." she was then asked. "I'm sorry to say I can't," replied the bride, looking ashamed as well as sorry.

She added that she never belonged to any church, but was convinced from her surroundings, wherever she happened to be that there was a ruling power in the sky, the same invisible power that brough ther safely through the forty-mile stretch of wilderness with her betrothed.

Replying to a question as to why she did not get married at her own home, Mrs. Degraw said it was the wish of her afflanced husband that his father should see her and pass judgment on her looks and disposition before he would consent to marry her.

"Did I please the stern parent? Well, I should say I did. He fairly idelized me as soon as I entered the house, and insisted that we get married before we shook the dust from our feet."

Mrs. Degraw said she had a little difficulty get married before we shook the dust from our feet."

Mrs. Degraw said she had a little difficulty in securing the marriage certificate, as the Justice was not willing to part with it until he was assured that he would be paid for it. Seeing the reporter talking to his young bride. Degraw now hastened across the field. The stalwart youth said he met his wife about a year and a half ago, and that her pleasing face and kinky flaxen hair captivated him to such an extent that he told his father that he could not be happy without her.

Mr. Degraw said that, like his bride, he could neither read nor write, but he was proud to say that one of the family, an uncle who lived at tamp Gaw, in Rockland county, could read print, aithough writing staggered him.

The young husband added that his great aim in life was to make Essie a happy wife and increase the capacity of his backet business.

Ten Thousand People Attend the Outing of the Robert Davis Association.

Ten thousand people, men, women, children, were the guests yesterday of the Robert Davis Association of Jersey City on an excursion to Sylvan Beach Grove, S. L. The association is named in honor of ex-Sheriff Davis, one of the Democratic leaders in Hud-Davis, one of the Democratic leaders in Hud-son county. There were six barges and a steamer, and all of them were crowded when they left the Morris street pior about 11 o'clock Ex-sheriff Davis, Assemblyman Hugh A. Kelly. Tax Commissioner John D. Gorman, James E. Connolly, clerk of the Tax Board, and a number of other prominent Democrats looked after the comfort of the guests. There was music and dancing on each of the barges. Hefreshments in plenty were furnished to all the excursionists, and a merry day was spent on the water and in the grove. on the water and in the grove.

A Lying-in Hospital Keeper Arrested.

Agent Schultes of the Gerry Society secured warrant at the Jefferson Market Police Court on Tuesday afternoon and arrested Edward E. Conrad of 254 West Thirty-fourth street, whom he charged with illegally conducting a materthat early next month a young man of the nity hospital and lying-in establishment. College, and he also studied at the Polyclinic follege, and he also studied at the Polyclinic in this city. Schultes heard of the business that the young doctor had started, and he called on him last week. Conrad agreed to board a wo-man for S3 a day and demanded a fee of $100 after recovery. after recovery.

Armed with this evidence, Schultes arrested the man and he was held for further examination in the Jefferson Market Court yesterday, It is said that the Board of Health has twice refused to give Conrad a license for a mater-nity hospital.

Two Highway Women Sent to the Island A number of complaints have reached Capt. Price of the West Thirty-seventh street police station recently concerning the operations of two colored women who have been holding up nd robbing drunken men at night. The ward and robbing drunken men at night. The ward detectives kept a watch for the highway women, but the latter were clever enough to keep out of the way of the police until Tuesday night, when Capt. Price himself unexpectedly met them in Twenty-ninth street, near Eighth avenue. He arrested them, and at the station house they said they were Louise Matthews of 241 West Twenty-night street and Mary Williams of 230 West Forty-first street. Justice Hogan sent them to the Island for a month, at the Jefferson Market Folice Court yestorday.

College Point's Railroad Station Closed

The College Point station of the Long Island Railroad was closed yesterday by Health Officer Dr. E. A. W. Reimer and Health In spector John C. Halfele. They routed out the ticket agent, telegraph operator, and express manager, put Deputy Sheriff John Kraemer in charge, and stuck up notices reading "Closed by order of the Board of Health." The building was order of the Board of Health." The building was condemned several weeks ago, but the rail-road company paid no attention to the Health Board's action. After yesterday's raid the company ordered needed repairs to be made. Not many weeks ago the Flushing Board of Health closed the Bridge street station at Flushing until certain repairs were made. It is said that similar action is contemplated by other villages along the road.

Subway Workmen Find a Skeleton Workmen excavating for a subway found part of a human skeleton yesterday at the cor-ner of Catherine and Madison streets. Near the bones were pieces of partly decayed pine boards, probably parts of the box in which boards, probably parts of the box in which the body was buried. The bones and boards were found just above the brick sewer which runs through Catharine street, and which was built in 1455. Men who have lived in that neighbor and for many years have no recollection of the burial of any one in the street, and yesterday afternoon the old residents of that locality were spinning all sorts of grousome years of midnight murder and mysterious crims to account for the presence there of the skeleton.

A Debarred Immigrant Tries Suicide. Philomena Grandino, one of forty Italian contract laborers who arrived on the steamship Karamania, ran a stiletto into his mouth yesterday when he heard that he had been prohibited from landing. He was in the detention pen. and when he fell on the floor and blood flowed and when he fell on the noor and blood hower from his mouth the other debarred immigrants became much excited. Grandino was taken to the hospital. The fills Island physicians say that he is badly hurt and may die. There are altegother about 1300 debarred immigrants in the detention pens awaiting transportation to Europe. They were landed at fills Island from six steamships that have arrived during the last few weeks.

Fined for Corrupting His Landiord's Morals. Mrs. Margaret Schassberger, who keeps a coarding house at 35 Hivington street, preerred a charge of disorderly conduct against Henry Hahn, one of her boarders, in the Essex Market Court yesterday morning. She testified that Haim was spelling her husband by taking him out at night and getting him to drink liquor. She said that when she upbraided Hahn he slapped her face. Justice your face this read Haim a severe lecture, fined him $5, and advised him to find another boarding house at once.

225 Members Have Taken the Four Years Course-10,000 Members in the Class of '96 CHAUTAUQUA, Aug. 23.-Exercises appropriate to the twelfth annual recognition day have been held here to-day. By recognition day at Chautaugus is meant that the class which has pursued the four years' course of study of the C. L. S. C. has completed the same, and the members are ready to, and do, receive their diplomas. The class this year contained about 225 members. The recognition day oration was delivered by the Rev. Joseph Cook of Boston. He emphasized the words of a grea educator who said, "Upward, onward, heavenward are the true aspirations of the scholar. The class of 'iii, which was formed last year. contains at present 10,000 members. The country, and even Africa has thirteen C. L. S. C. circles with over a hundred undergradu C circles with over a hundred undergradu-ates and ten graduates. The C. L. S. C. has about fourteen hundred circles altogether. The circles are sprinkled all over New Zea-land, South America, Mexico, and Cuba. It is now the purpose of the management to estab-lish a Spanish circle in Mexico. There is a Catholic reading circle and a Jowish depart-ment in the C. L. S. C. There are new over 2,000 graduates who are taking post-gradu-ate courses. 2.000 graduates who are taking post-graduate courses.

During the past year "Chautauqua extension." similar to the university extension movement, has been started, and nearly seventy courses of lectures have been given in different places. The coming year the Chautauqua extension course will consist chiefly of four courses of lectures. They include "The Poetry of Browning," prepared by Owen Seaman of Rugby Schools: "Social Sciences," prepared by A. W. Small: "Great Periods of Mediaval History and Art.," prepared by Wm. H. Goodyear of New York: "The Fail of Jerusalem," prepared by Jr. Wm. R. Harper, principal of the Chiego University. On Tuesday evening the various C. L. S. C. classes gave receptions to their friends in their respective headquarters.

THE ATLANTA'S CONDITION.

Secretary Herbert Taking Measures that May Result in a Court Martial.

Washington, Aug. 23.-The recent extraordinary and discreditable developments in the case of the cruiser Atlanta have induced Secretary Herbert to direct an examination of all aspection reports made within a recent period of time, with a view to determining whether the statements made in such reports are correct. If it be discovered that any officers have condition of ships they are called upon to inspect, or for whose condition they are responsible by reason of command, no leniency will be shown them by the department.

The fact that the disgraceful condition of the Atlanta had not become known to the Department, because previous inspection Boards had prenounced her to be satisfactory and had made no mention of the accumulation of rust and other material that threatened her usefulness, has led the Secretary to suspect, if not to actually believe, that some members of inspection Boards have performed their duties in a manner purely perfunctory, and he proposes to stop the practice. No action has been taken on the report in the case of the Atlanta, but it may be predicted, almost with certainty, that a court marcial will result. condition of ships they are called upon to in-the time at 130. At the Real Estate Exchange 880 shares of the stock were advertised to be sold yesterday, but subsequently 250 shares were withdrawn. The remainder fetched 150, 144%, and 135; 300 shares which were put up later were sold at 151 and 150, and twenty-five shares at 135.

The inquiry in Wall street yesterday was who is responsible for these large sales of the stock? It is known that the company has been under heavy expenses for improvements and it also is known that one of the officials of the company has contracted large personal loans upon pledge of the stock. John Beaver, treasurer of the company, bought in most of reasurer of the company, bought in most of he last 300 shares offered yesterday.

Kicked Himself Out of a Job.

A street sweeper on lower Broadway joined the army of the unemployed yesterday because of his antipathy for cats. Cats are his aversion, and, when he saw one mousing around the sewer catch-basin at John street and Broadway on Monday, he sneaked up and kicked her into the catch-basin. Benjamin N. Camp, whe saw the proceeding, remonstrated with the man, but the sweeper paid no attention to him, and Mr. Camp complained to Commissioner Andrews. Capt. Michael Whalen, who, as contractor, sweeps Broadway, was notified, identified the cat hater, and summarily discharged him. aversion, and, when he saw one mousing
